The screenshot shows the Firefox Add-ons page for the search term 'tamper data'. The browser's address bar shows 'about:addons'. The search bar contains 'tamper data'. Below the search bar, there are radio buttons for 'My Add-ons' and 'Available Add-ons', with 'Available Add-ons' selected. A list of add-ons is displayed, with the 'Tamper Data' add-on highlighted by a yellow box. The 'Tamper Data' add-on has a green puzzle piece icon, the title 'Tamper Data', the description 'Use tamperdata to view and modify HTTP/HTTPS headers...', the date '02/11/2010', and an 'Install' button. Other add-ons include 'Tamper Data Icon Redux', 'Data saver proxy for Firefox', and 'Tab Data (+Memory usage)'. A watermark 'www.hackingarticles.in' is visible over the middle of the page.
